EXCOMMUNICATED.

That is a tremendous word, terrible in length and ominous in sound. It was once a word of significant import in Utah, but it has lost many of its terrors in these latter days. There was, when it was used, a certain dignity and a certain force in it, for it was sufficient to ensure prompt obedience to his caprice, for it conveyed to the refractory individual a warning which it was the part of discretion to heed. It certainly prefigured persecution, it often had a far more fearful meaning. "Cut off" and "sent to hell across lots" were favorite and frequently synonymous terms. Their original import has now become nearly obsolete and many a good man breathes more freely with a welcome consciousness of greater security.

It has ever been used, in its worst application, to discipline and drag the masses into abject submission to one will, to reduce them to a most degrading condition of spiritual vassalage, that they might the more readily be made the blind instruments of a master mind. It was the ultimatum of a despotism carried into the most trivial affairs of life and rendered easy by a church organization, than which nothing could be more complete for that or any other purpose. Nothing, which it was to the interest, pecuniary or political, of the chief of the church to prevent, escaped attention and insolent interference.

Was it the wish of the Man of Tithings to control the produce markets, he straightway called his council together, all subject to his absolute will, and made his purpose known. Some faces of a convention is enacted, in which the same will is supreme, to give the scheme a more popular and plausible character and mask the real design. Then the mandate of the Master Schemer goes forth in the form of "counsel" to the Presidents of Stakes and districts, thence to bishops of wards, and so on down to the teachers, who have access to every house, by virtue of their position, and generally exercise their meddlesome functions in the most overbearing manner, it being made their duty to report to their superiors any case of noncompliance. Thus is the will of one man, before which all others must bow, carried into every household in the Territory and obedience enforced on pain of excommunication and its swift consequences.

Armed with such a power, what wonder that the schemes and the speculations of the Mormon Head Center are so invariably successful? As in this, so in all other cases. Last fall the military headquarters of the district of Utah were established in Salt Lake City by orders from competent authority. It was necessary to procure suitable buildings for the purpose, and an effort was made to that end by the proper officer. A stubborn determination was plainly manifested on the part of the church authorities to prevent its success. This had been anticipated, and indirect means were used to accomplish the purpose, but, for a considerable time, unsuccessfully. A deliberate design had been formed to render the consummation of any such purpose impossible, and it came very near proving a success through the means pointed out above. Then, as now, it was made a condition in every lease, that the property should not be sub-let to the Government, with the avowed purpose on the part of Brigham Young of preventing the presence in this city of anything representing the national military authority. This is still his express determination as we happen to know.

It chanced, however, that one of the parties recently cut off from the Church, becoming disgusted with such proceedings, determined to defeat the freezing-out process, even at the risk of incurring the sure displeasure of His Holiness, the Patriarch of Deseret. He vacated his own premises for Government uses and from that day dated the petty annoyances to which he has since been subjected at the hands of the Mormon Church. This case may serve as a sample of others. It is full smooth sailing, while you run with the current, but attempt to stem that and you immediately find yourself surrounded with difficulties, teased with a thousand devices of the Prophet's displeasure—excommunication.

There is a funny feature in this last affair of cutting off which tickles us considerably. You see, dear reader, that such a paper as the Vedette has never been published in this city, to the best of the knowledge and belief of our Mormon contemporaries. They have wickedly taken for their motto:

"O me, we'll never mention it. Its name shall never be heard—let us still live."

We have poured broadside after broadside into the rotten old bulk of Polygamy, at short range, without eliciting a reply. We have shot shot, shot and splinter flying about the ears of her crew, until the world have become interested spectators of the engagement—all the while the Salt Lake Vedette has been quietly publishing its attacks on the Mormon empire. They have all along remained in sublime unconsciousness of the existence of our much-little paper, though compelled to keep up a sort of a dodging all the while to escape our bullets. They have at the outset a deliberate design to kill us with contempt—a very cruel and fatal design, which will doubtless prove successful if continued long enough, for we are already expiring rapidly at the rate of about two thousand copies a day. The Vedette is growing larger, too, a bad sign, for it is only stretching out to die.

It is suspected, however, from certain symptoms observable of late, that they have expended about all of this dangerous kind of ammunition and our waning hopes revive again. We have been so long sinking, and have shown so much vitality, withal, that some of the cabin passengers on the other boat have apparently concluded to take passage with us—at all events they have sent in their cards—and here is where the laugh comes in. The gentlemen alluded to were "excommunicated" months since, but were not cut off completely until their cards appeared in the Vedette, then they were turned adrift. Never mind, gentlemen, come aboard, we will stand by you while there is a plank left, and you will have, at least, the satisfaction of sailing with "men, who know their rights and knowing dare maintain."

Right here we will whisper a secret, which may surprise some of our Mormon friends, who fear to name the Vedette above their breath lest they offend Brigham. With all his affected contempt of our paper, practiced to deceive the people, it has positively never had a more constant patron than the prophet himself, and, in view of the point-blank style of literature where-with we have carefully provided him, we are not without reasonable encouragement of having done him much good, and may, perhaps, indulge a faint hope of ultimately working in him the miracle of reform. Let us hope these pleasing anticipations may not be disappointed.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION-VEDETTE.)

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

Washington, June 12. Congress, from the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads reported a joint resolution releasing the Pacific Mail Steamship Company from that part of their contract compelling them to run to Honolulu, which was ordered printed. The Colorado question has not been touched in the Senate since the President's veto, and will probably not be taken up at all unless it can command a two-thirds vote, which its friends don't altogether despair of securing.

Among other matters in Congress today, Trumbull reported to the Senate the House bill reducing the number of supreme court judges from nine to six. The Senate passed the legislative appropriation bill with an amendment placing $160,000 at the disposal of the Secretary of the Treasury for distribution among the clerks as extra compensation; also an amendment giving the President a private secretary at a salary of $3,500; an assistant secretary, salary $2,500; two short hand writers, salary $2,500 each; a pardon clerk, salary $2,000; and three clerks at $1,800 each.

The amendment giving the Secretary of the Treasury this magnificent sum was adopted by a vote of 23 against 14 after a protracted debate, in which Mr. McCulloch's political course was ventilated.

HOUSE.

Washington, June 12. Bidwell introduced a bill granting land to California to aid the construction of certain wagon roads for military and postal purposes, which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Washington, June 13. The House by a vote of 127 against 32, passed the Constitutional amendment in the form adopted by the Senate on the 8th inst., and which has been fully telegraphed. The closing debate was in the House.

Stevens said the House portion of the committee of fifteen were unanimously agreed that the Senate amendment should be concurred in, and while Mr. Stevens, four much good in the joint resolution, he could not but regret the omission of many better things. He said, in my youth, in my manhood, and in my old age, I have fondly dreamed that when any fortunate chance should have broken up for a time the foundations of our institutions, and released us from obligations the most tyrannical ever imposed in the name of freedom, the intelligent, free and just men of this Republic, from their professions and their consciences, would have so re-modelled all our institutions as to have freed them from every vestige of oppression, equality of rights, of the recognized degradation of the poor and the superior caste of the rich. In short, that no distinction would be tolerated in this Republic, but that which arose from meritorious conduct.

case of the amendment abolishing slavery, that the Vedette has nothing to do with such legislation.

GENERAL NEWS.

Washington, June 12. A branch mint building is to be erected at Carson City immediately, and plans have gone forward.

The General Land Office has just prepared a map of the town of Cannonville, Douglas county, Nevada, in order that the citizens may realize the privilege of the town site law of 1864.

Chicago, June 12th. E. B. Washburn was unanimously renominated for Congress yesterday.

Foreign News.

New York, June 12. The steamer Scotia brings dates via Queenstown 30th. Consols closed on Saturday evening at 85 1/2 @ 85 1/2, ex-dividend 5-20's, 64 1/2 @ 65 1/2. Cotton firmer, and buoyant, with advance.

California Items.

It is now reported that Sheriff McClatchy, of Sacramento, is not to be editor-in-chief of the Times, but that Sam Seabough, of the Stockton Independent, is to occupy that position.

For Idaho and Montana.—Burgess and Roberts, of Red Bluffs, left that place recently for Idaho with 1,585 sheep. Should the market there not be favorable, they will move on to Montana.

EMIGRATION TO IDAHO AND MONTANA.—A correspondent from Ohio, under date of June 5th, writes: Within the last two days over 200 Chinamen have passed here, bound for Idaho Territory. There has also been a large emigration of whites over this road, bound for Idaho and Montana Territories. The California and Idaho Stage Company have got a party of men on the far end of this route repairing the road and arranging stations. They will have their stages playing over the road in a few days, carrying mail and passengers to Ruby and Boise Cities in quicker time than has ever before been made.

Gov. Low, who has been paying a visit to Los Angeles, has been the recipient of various social attentions. In Wilmington and Los Angeles balls were given in honor of him.

Steve Venard has been appointed Deputy Sheriff of Yuba county, to reside at Summit City.

Mr. Forrest's popularity rather increases than diminishes. He has now been playing three weeks and with steadily increasing houses.

Nineteen Chinamen left San Francisco for Oregon by the steamer Nevada on Saturday to avoid the prosecution now going on against their class.—Appeal, Cal.

M. E. Gelston, formerly a clerk in the office of the Adjutant General of this State, who was indicted for forgery and escaped from jail before trial, has been arrested at Austin, Nevada, and will be brought back to Sacramento.

From Colorado.

SNOWS.—Main street looks lively these fine moonlight evenings with the crowd of hardy miners and mechanics, gentlemen of leisure and ladies with their husbands or lovers perambulating the street, shopping or for pleasure.—Central City Register.

Large and appreciative audiences assembled nightly at the Montana Theatre. Friday night Mr. Waldron presented "Macbeth" in Shakespeare's great tragedy of that name. He was frequently applauded. Miss Clifton, Messrs. Richmond, Leslie, Langrishe and the balance of the company ably supported him. Mrs. Leslie, as "Hecate," sang sweetly.—Central City Register, 3d.

The Journal on the authority of Mr. Fitzpatrick, contradicts the statement of a Leavenworth paper, that Fitz John Porter was $75,000 short in his settlement with the company of which he was agent.

Mr. John Whitton, a driver in Alex. Benham's train, when some eight miles west of Alkali had reason to lift the telegraph line off the ground, when a flash of lightning struck the line at that point, tearing it into small pieces and instantly killing Mr. Whitton.

Gen. Pope COMING.—By a telegram received by Lieut. Williams we learn that Gen. Pope will be in Denver between the 20th and 25th insts. General Pope is in command of the Department, with his headquarters at Fort Leavenworth.—News.

COLORADO.

The Senate is expected soon to take up the President's Veto of the bill admitting Colorado as a State of the Union; and it is important that the controlling facts in the case should be clearly understood.

The Veto Message states that, at the election of September, 1864, 1,096 votes were cast for the admission of Colorado as a State of the Union; and that the controlling facts in the case should be clearly understood.

This is a great mistake. The President's confidence has been abused. Here is the evidence:

Denver, Colorado, May 23, 1867. Messrs. Evans & Clapp: I herewith transmit the official vote on the first constitution of Colorado, as per abstract on file in my office. For the constitution, forty-two hundred and nineteen votes (4,219). Against it, fifty hundred and six (5,006). Majority, 787.

(Signed) Secretary and Acting Governor. The vote by which they decided, last September, to become a State, was 3,086 for to 2,870 against. Their vote for Governor in November was Gilpin, 3,123; Craig, 2,698; Bender, 1,835. Total, 7,657. That, surely, is not a contemptible basis for a new State—one which the Pacific Railroad ought to reach in 1867, and which will thereupon be peopled more rapidly than any new State ever was.—N. Y. Tribune, 26th ult.

MAJOR General G. M. Dodge was mustered out on the 1st, and has entered upon the discharge of his duties as Chief Engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad. Brigadier General Philip St. George Cook has assumed command of the Department of the Platte, with Headquarters at Omaha.

Orders were received in this city yesterday breaking up the District of Utah. The posts of Camp Douglas and Fort Bridger will be under command of Col. Henry E. Maynadier, 5th U.S. Vols., Headquarters at Ft. Laramie, Dakota Ter.

THE FEMININE.—The following "private dispatch" has been handed us for publication:

San Francisco, June 13—8 P. M. John H. McGrath—A dispatch from Colonel Roberts, of New York, dated June 9th, was received to-day, saying Pigeon Hill, Canada East, was captured. Centre Slab City was stormed and the British colors taken by our troops. All is going on well. There is no such word as fail. Don't believe in newspaper reports. JOHN HAVILL, State Centre, California.

All goes smoothly with the new Atlantic cable. It is now coiling at the rate of two miles an hour in the tanks of the Great Eastern. The Amethyst hulk is moored alongside the great ship of Sheerness, while the Iris is laden in her turn at Greenwich, and will supply the Amethyst's place as soon as the latter is refitted. Thus, manufacture and storage go on concurrently, and at the moment one part of the wire is receiving its elementary coating of Chatterton's compound, or being spun at Birmingham, other portions are laid down in the ship ready for the final paying out.

The bankrupt bill, says the Intelligencer, has passed the House, and there is reason to believe that it will pass the Senate. It is said by the creditor as well as the debtor interest. This is not, like the two former bankrupt acts, a mere temporary expedient to relieve debtors, but it is intended to carry out an unexecuted and important constitutional power, to establish a permanent and uniform system of bankruptcy.

Some of the leading provisions of this bill have already been adopted as a part of the bankrupt law of England, and were duly credited to their American source. Mr. Jencks, of Rhode Island, is the author of the bill, and it has been matured and perseveringly urged upon the House by him and his able associates of the joint committee which had the subject in charge.

THE GREAT EMIGRATION FROM IRELAND.—The increasing emigration from Ireland has already been noted. A late number of the Pull Mail Gazette observes:

Although labor is scarce and wages high in every part of Ireland, the exodus to America is rapidly on the increase. From Cork alone an average of fifteen hundred embark weekly, and from the other Irish ports the migration is proportionably rapid. The master wish of every Irishman belonging to the lower-middle and lower classes seems to be to leave his country forever—an object which he pursues with the most determined and most promising spirit. He is ready to leave his home and his family, and to seek his fortune in a distant land, provided with the money he can raise, to secure more for the transport of the rest of the family. In this way not only an immense amount of labor, but also an immense amount of specie is daily lost to Ireland and acquired by America. The young and the industrious, the flower of the population, depart the old and the feeble and the sickly remain behind, awaiting the inevitable emigration of their fellow-countrymen. It is deplorable that this should be so, but so it is.

FROM MEXICO.—The New-York Times Mexican letter says: The Diario del Comercio of the 18th of May, gives the following official list of Confederates who have settled down on the land at Cordova, purchased by Gen. Magruder, Shelby, Price & Co.; Perkins, Harris, J. H. Wilkinson, Dancon, Collins, Kunkle, Page, Fort, Hall, Santiago, Anderson, V. G. Henry, Young and Brown, each have 320 acres. Gen. Magruder, F. York, Sterling Price, Chattanooga, Murray, M. F. Caldwell, Schmitz, Barron, DeCorty and Didier, each have 640 acres.

At the present time, Gen. Magruder and Jubal Early are all that are left of nearly two hundred "bad remnants of civil war," who once hung around Maximilian's throne.

The same writer says that Quantrell is quietly rusticating in the Cordova regions.

From the East.

Gen. W. T. Sherman, accompanied by Col. J. C. McCoy and J. D. Bingham, arrived at St. Paul, Minn., on Friday, from Sioux City. On Saturday he partook of the hospitality of Gen. Sibley and Gorman. On Sunday he visited Gen. Alexander at Fort Snelling. On Monday he made a trip to the Falls of St. Anthony, returning to St. Paul, was greeted with a salute of artillery; made a speech to an immense crowd; and attended a banquet in the evening.—Chicago Republican, 30th ult.

Gen. Robert Anderson is still seriously ill in New York.

Gen. Hazen has left Washington for the West, and will shortly cross the Plains to the Pacific, in the discharge of his duties as Inspector of the Department of the Platte.

Gen. C. S. Hamilton was shot at Fond du Lac, on Monday night, by R. A. Baker, cashier of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, during a personal altercation. General Hamilton received two wounds, neither of which, it is thought, will be fatal.—Chicago Republican, 30th ult.

Semmes is said to be preparing an account for publication of his cruise in the Alabama. It will be a new edition of "The Pirate's Own Book."—Jersey City Times.

A complete statement of the vessels captured by rebel privateers from the outbreak of the rebellion in 1861 to the surrender of the Shenandoah to the British Government, November 6, 1865, has just been published. The vessels captured numbered 233, valued with their cargoes, at $25,646,000. There were 48 vessels captured, bonded, and released, valued with their cargoes, at $5,458,000. The total number of vessels actually destroyed numbered 235, valued with their cargoes, at $20,038,000. The total number of privateers of all classes was 25, of which 14 were steamers.

A band of outlaws went to the house of a man named Gunter, in Overton county, Tennessee, one day last month, and on some frivolous pretext took him into the woods, stripped and were unmercifully whipping him. His daughter seized a hatchet, rushed to the spot, and succeeded, with heroic bravery, in killing two of the ruffians, and wounding others. She and her father have since been driven from the county.
